George Shaker<sup>1, 2, *</sup>, Sa'eddin Safavi-Naeini<sup>1</sup>, and Nagula Sangary<sup>1, 3</sup>. Abstract—In this paper, the modal theory of antennas is re-visited, believing that it brings invaluable information towards facilitating the design of multi-feed multi-band antennas. LECTURE 12: Reflector Antennas - McMaster University Nikolova 2016 4 The simplest reflector antenna consists of two components: a reflecting surface and a much smaller feed antenna at the reflector's focal point. Constructions that are more complex involve a secondary reflector (a subreflector) at the focal point, which is illuminated by a primary feed. These are called dual-reflector antennas. Modern methods of reflector antenna analysis and design ... Here's the first complete reference available on all of the modern reflector antenna analysis and design techniques. This book demystifies modern reflector antenna analysis by proceeding from the early numerical integration approaches to today's powerful techniques, such as the Jacobi-Bessel and Fourier-Bessel Methods. Design Concepts for Large Reflector Antenna Structures The approach using a deep articulated truss structure to support a mesh reflector is selected for detailed investigation. A new sequential deployment concept for the tetrahedral truss is explained. Good joint design is discussed, and examples are described both analytically and by means of demonstration models.
